

Taste of Everything

M. McClelland

School phone: 403-887-0491

Email: mmcClelland@cesd73.ca

Driving Question: How can I develop my skills in a variety of areas?

Course Description:

Do you get bored easily? Then this class is for you! As a class, we will explore options and passions to try over the course of the term. Ideas include: strategic games, publishing: photography and brochures for the school play, arts and/or crafts, survival skills, health and fitness, driver's ed, science experiments and more. The possibilities are endless!

Career Possibilities: Business, Communication, Technology, Resources, Human Services

The expectation is for students to participate with a positive attitude and effort. Students will take part in various mini units including:

- Strategies to use in a variety of games
- Survival skills in the outdoors
- Games to play outside
- Technology skills to support the school play - brochures, actor write ups
- Learning science skills in a variety of experiments
- Driver's ed
- Arts and crafts

CTF Outcomes focused on in this complementary class:

- I demonstrate skills associated with occupational areas
- I problem solve when creating responses to challenges
- I develop personal skills to support mutually respectful and effective relationships